

APRIL 2023 MONTH IN REVIEW

Northwest Territories

LAWS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mental Stress

Mar 20: Despite moderate declines in 2022, medical visits related to anxiety are still above pre-pandemic levels. Those are among the findings of a new GNWT report analyzing the long term social impacts of the public health measures it implement during the pandemic to prevent the spread of COVID.

Action Point: Create a legally sound policy for accommodating employees with mental disabilities

New Laws

Mar 31: The GNWT wrapped up public consultations on a proposal to replace its Affirmative Action Policy with an Indigenous Employment Policy and Employment Equity Policy.

Health & Safety

Apr 13: That's the deadline to comment on proposed Motor Vehicles Act regulatory changes that would require employers to install electronic logging devices in commercial vehicles of 4,500 kg or more to ensure that drivers comply with Hours-of-Service safety rules designed to prevent driver fatigue.