

Yukon

LAWS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Immigration

Jan 21: The Yukon Nominee Program indefinitely postponed its latest intake scheduled for January 29 after learning that the federal government has reduced its 2025 nominee allocation by 50% to 215. The agency says it needs more time to study the new situation before it begins to process applications for 2025.

Action Point: Find out about the 10 things employers need to know about hiring temporary foreign workers.

Immigration

Jan 9: Yukon launched a new pilot project to help internationally educated health professionals ply their trade in the territory. The Foreign Credential Recognition Navigation Service connects individuals to a navigator that can provide information on licensing requirements, connect individuals with settlement service providers, identify special training opportunities and furnish one-on-one pathway counselling.

Labour Relations

Jan 24: Yukon and the Yukon Association of Education Professionals inked a new 3-year collective agreement. Key terms: Annual wage increases of 8.15% in year 1 and 3.0% in each of years 2 and 3, an additional 10% increase to teachers on call, an additional 7% increase to education assistants, a $5,000 allowance for First Nations language teachers and a rural retention allowance for educators in rural communities.

New Laws

Jan 28: New Health Professions Act regulations establish professional standards that psychologists must meet to be licensed to practice in Yukon and create a formal process for patients to register complaints about the quality of services they receive from licensed psychologists.

Workers' Comp

Feb 28: That's the final day for Yukon employers to file their Employer's Payroll Return and Contract Labour Report (EPR) form listing their actual 2024 workers' comp assessable payroll numbers and estimates for 2025. All EPRs must be submitted online; the YWCHSB no longer accepts paper forms.